ABSTRACT

This article is an attempt to study the doctrine of Separation of Power as engraved in the Constitution of India and the difficulties faced by the three organs of the government while implementing and interpreting the provisions of the Constitution in letter and spirit. The research also draws a comparative approach with the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA's and UNITED KINGDOM's Constitutional scheme of Separation of Powers. Throughout the course of research various cases have been discussed in which the Courts have recognized that there is no straightjacket formula to determine Separation of Power. With the complexities in all the democracies in the world, overlapping of the jurisdiction is bound to arise. However, the three organs should keep a system of checks and balances, so they do not end up violating the rights of the people. The Doctrine Separation of Power is a part of the basic structure of the Indian Constitution. It is in this context, that the research was made on the 'Constitutional Plan and Practices with respect to Separation of Power'
